

October 11 INC Meeting Features Election Issues Discussion

Denver ballot issues which may be discussed include two Denver Public Schools fundraising measures, a Career Service reform measure, and the repeal of Quick Wins 2 (as of press time, this issue had been thrown off the ballot by court decision, but an appeal was promised). Additionally, an open at-large DPS school board seat may be discussed, as well as three state-wide election issues.

The meeting is being hosted by Mayor John Hickenlooper, Auditor Dennis Gallagher and City Council President Elbra Wedgeworth.

The October 11, 2003 INC Delegates' Meeting will take place at Qube Visual, courtesy of owner Joshua Hanfling. It is located at 1247 N. Santa Fe Drive. Parking is available on the north, south and in front of the building. (See map on page 7).

Dictionaries Make Their Way to DPS Third-Graders

*By Cathee Fisher
Dollar Dictionary Drive
Co-Chair*

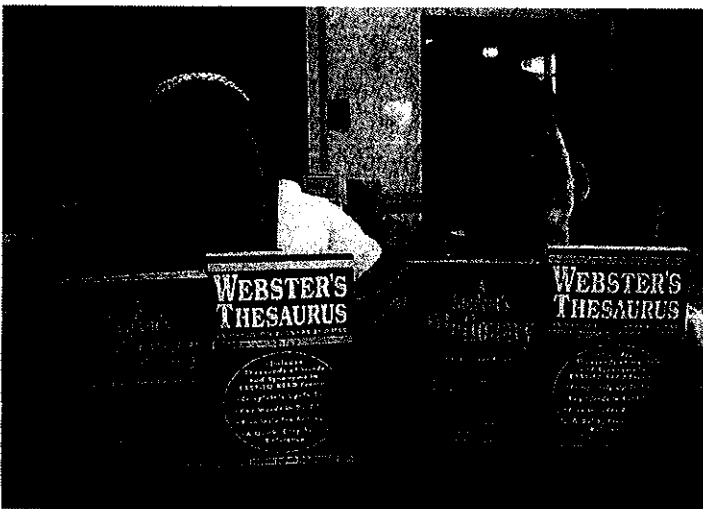

These books are special because they come from the generosity of each student's neighbors. The books will be the foundation of their personal libraries and will help with their education and learning through elementary, middle and high school, and into college and as adults.

The eight-year-old third-graders receiving not only one book, but two books of their own this year were babies when the Dollar Dictionary Drive started in 1996. In assemblies and classrooms across Denver the smiles and enthusiasm have been contagious. Everyone who has helped hand out the dictionaries and thesauruses has had a great time.

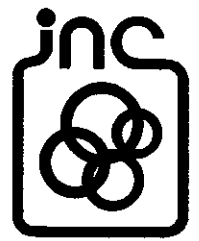

Most schools have already given the books to the students, with or without us, but neighborhoods can still contact the principal of neighborhood schools to do a special presentation. This is a special gift only for third-graders and every eight-year-old likes to feel special. Join the fun and invite your neighbors.

Amendment 33 -- Allows Video Lottery Terminals to fund tourism promotion

Referendum A -- $2 billion in revenue bonds to fund water projects

Hi Everyone! As you know, last month's meeting was held at the Denver Police Department's District 2 Station. What a nice place, and the community room was wonderful! We had a great meeting with Congresswoman DeGette, Beth Conover from the Mayor's Office and a presentation on Quick Wins 2. In addition to our regular neighborhood activists, Auditor Dennis Gallagher, Councilwoman Jeanne Robb and Councilman Rick Garcia were in attendance. I'd like to thank them for taking an interest and showing up to hear what is going on in neighborhoods throughout Denver.

Since October is our annual Ballot Issues Meeting, the following ballot issues are tentatively scheduled for discussion. They may change between now and the meeting

Denver Ballot Issues

Referendum 100 -- Repeal of Quick Wins 2 (currently bounced off the ballot by the court)

Referred Question 1A -- Career Service reform

Referred Issue 3A -- $20 million property tax levy for DPS general fund

Referred Issue 3B -- $310.8 million in general obligation bonds to build new DPS schools and repair old ones

DPS School District Races

At-Large -- Three candidates (Rita Montero, Theresa Pena, Jose Silva)

State of Colorado Ballot Questions

Amendment 32 -- Changes Gallagher Amendment

These are not listed in any order so we reserve the right to mix all this up.

President's Dinner

Also, the Annual President's Dinner is looking like it will be held in November but we don't have a date confirmed yet. I'm also very happy to report that we have a sponsor for this event: The Denver Metro Convention and Visitors Bureau. I'm also hopeful that there will be an article from the sponsor in next month's Denver Neighborhood Connection.

That's all for now as there is so much to do! There's housework, regular work and going to the mountains to see the aspen change! See you all at the October meeting.

Citizens Police Academy Starts

The Denver Police Department and Chief Gerald Whitman are currently taking applications for the third "Citizens Academy" of 2003. The Citizens Academy is an opportunity for community members to learn about many areas of the Denver Police Department. Topics include "Gangs in Denver," "Criminal Investigations," "Internal Affairs Investigations," "Less Lethal Force" and "Biased Policing." The classes will be taught by Denver police officers and district attorneys who are experts in these areas.

Classes will start on Wednesdays, starting October 8th and graduate December 12th. Class times will be from 6 p.m. to 9 p.m.

Interested parties should contact Sergeant Adam Hernandez at the Denver Police Academy at 303-370-1506.

Sunnyside United Neighbors, Inc. - The Denver Foundation has funded the manufacture and installation of "Welcome to Sunnyside" signs.

Baker Historic N.A. - Hosted a forum at Cafe Metro to introduce neighbors, Realtors, lenders and BHNA Board members to each other and talk about opportunities in Baker. It distributed dictionaries at Fairmont as part of a special assembly. The association is actively working with various agencies on the Valley Highway Project.

University Park Community Council - Is continuing to work on its small area plan. City Council approved the Colorado Boulevard Station Framework on September 8 by a unanimous vote of 13-0. University Park residents spoke at the public hearing. Council members understand the importance of having such an advisory plan for future reference and realize that they, city departments, and neighbors must work now to attain the goals of the plan. University Park residents met with Bob Dorroh of Public Works on August 30 regarding city plans to widen the 1900 block of S. University, redo the University/Buchtel intersection, and extend Buchtel Trail west to S. Franklin Street. Neighborhood priorities are to save trees, greenery, and ensure safe routes for pedestrians and bicyclists across and along these streets. Increased DU traffic/parking will force more University Park streets to be posted for 1-hour and resident permit parking unless DU can get students and staff to use its campus lots. Such posting is a hassle for residents and is not seen as a real "solution". University Park continues to support QW2 with donations and volunteer time.

Washington Park East N.A. - Its September general meeting focused on the QW2 zoning ordinance. District 3 Police Station is under construction and neighborhood looks forward to having access to a community center there in the future. The first annual 4th of July celebration at the Boat House in Washington Park was a huge success and the association hopes to have West Washington Park join it in sponsoring the event next year. Construction of the Exposition/University/Bonnie Brae intersection with a new left turn lane on Exposition has been completed.

Greater Park Hill Community, Inc - District 2 Police Station ground breaking took place in August. The neighborhood held it's 2nd Annual Funfest in August with 300+ attendance. Johnson and Wales University will be putting a hotel/training classroom in the renovation plans for Trent Hall, the oldest building on campus. The neighborhood's annual meeting will take place on October 14th. Board elections will be held in November, and a retreat is scheduled for December. Support for the Colfax Avenue redesign project has been taken on by graduate students at the University of Urban Planning Office.

Virginia Village/Ellis Community Association - Is working on "Vote No!" on referendum #100 to save Quick Wins 2.

Colfax on the Hill - Is working on Colfax Small Area Plan, and is making good progress!

City Park West - Overlay has been approved by Blue Print Denver City Council Committee.

Athmar Park - Its annual neighborhood-wide picnic focused on honoring block contacts, who help get the neighborhood newsletter out. Carol Campbel spearheaded an effort to get really nice "goodies" for all 120 contacts. Examples include IMAX tickets, theater tickets to Buell shows, passes to Elitch's, spa treatments and much more. In all, she and others gathered thousands of dollars worth of donations to treat our volunteers. It was a great experience!

Bow Mar Heights Improvement Association - Consists of 712 homes. It had a success story on National Night Out, as the neighborhood is somewhat apathetic! Received a grant from the Denver Foundation and Xcel through the Neighborhood Resource Center for $100. It was their 3rd annual event and they had finger-printers, face painters, police and the Fire Department. Over 100 people attended.

Godsman Community N.A. The neighborhood was encouraged by the Impact Team presentation at a recent meeting. The Team is a big help with traffic problems - speeding, running stop signs and not being careful where children are. Drug houses have been looked at as well. The association is working on growing.

George Washington HOA - Anne Callison thanked the Denver Board of Environmental Health for delaying a noise variance that would allow for dump trucks to operate on Alameda and Colorado from 8 p.m. to 4 a.m.

Lynwood 7 & 8 - Is again anticipating its annual clean-up of the banks of Cherry Creek bordering the neighborhood to the south. Additionally, the neighborhood is excited about the prospect of getting to meet its new councilperson, Charlie Brown, in the very near future.

Hampden South - A public meeting with District 4 will be held with Councilwoman Peggy Lehmann on October 23, 2003 at the Calvary Baptist Church at the corner of Hampden and Monaco Pkwy. from 6:45 p.m. to 8 p.m.

Jennifer Moulton Foundation Established

The family and loved ones of retired Denver Department of Planning Director, Jennifer Moulton, who died in late July, announce the formation of the "Jennifer Moulton Foundation," a private foundation for the research and treatment of amyloidosis. The disease affects only about eight of every 1 million people. Amyloidosis is so uncommon many physicians may not recognize it or properly diagnose it. Moulton was diagnosed less than one year ago.

As Denver's first female Planning Department Director, Moulton is credited with being a visionary who oversaw many important redevelopments, including Stapleton, Lowry and the expansion of the Denver Art Museum. Donations to the Jennifer Moulton Foundation can be made to the attention of Candice Encinias, care of Guaranty Bank, 1331 17th Street, Denver, CO 80202.

What to Do With Fall Leaves?

The Answer is Not Blowin' in the Wind

*By Ken Orlin
Neighborhood Coordinator
Keep Denver
Beautiful/Denver Recycles*

Fall is upon us and so is the annual ritual of raking your leaves. Before you trash those leaves, take advantage of the Denver Leafdrop, which gives Denver residents several options to recycle their leaves and to help the environment.

First, residents should try to use their leaves in home yards or gardens. But if they are unable to use all their leaves, they can drop them off at one of three locations on Sunday, November 9th, 16th and 23rd from 10 a.m. to 4 p.m. (sites and dates listed below). Leaves also will be accepted at one site only on weekdays from Oct. 13 through Dec. 5.

"Leaves and other yard wastes account for more than 20 percent of what Denver households send to the landfill," said Charlotte Pitt, acting recycling coordinator for Denver Recycles/Solid Waste Management. "The very best option for keeping leaves out of the landfill is to dig them into our yards and gardens, compost them, or mulch small amounts into our lawns," she added. "These practices help to enrich our soil, save money on fertilizer purchases and water bills, and help the city avoid the economic and environmental costs of landfilling leaves."

www.neighborhoodlink.com/denver/inc

"For those who can't reuse all of their leaves at home, the Denver Leafdrop drop-off program gives residents a chance to recycle their leaves and do something great for the environment," Pitt added. Last year's Leafdrop rescued nearly 200 tons of leaves from landfill disposal.

Residents can also help to close the recycling loop by reclaiming their leaves next spring in the form of rich compost to use in their yards and gardens. The compost will be made available in early May at Denver Recycles' annual Treecycle Mulch Giveaway and Leafdrop Compost Sale.

The Denver Leafdrop is a leaf-collection and composting program for Denver residents. Designed to keep recyclable organic waste out of area landfills, it is sponsored annually by Denver Recycles, a program of Denver Public Works/Solid Waste Management in cooperation with A1 Organics of Golden which will compost the leaves collected from residents.

The 2003 Leafdrop offers Denver residents Sunday and weekday drop-off options:

Option 1 - November Sundays: Take your leaves to one of the three drop-off sites listed below on Sunday, Nov. 9th, Sunday, Nov. 16th or Sunday, Nov. 23rd between 10 a.m. and 4 p.m. Denver Recycles will collect the leaves and ensure that they are composted.

Planning Board Schedules Oct. 25 Workshop, Seeks Neighborhood Input

William H. Hornby
Chair, Denver Planning Board

The Denver Planning Board and the Community Planning and Development staff are preparing the fourth annual report on implementation of Denver's Comprehensive Plan 2000. Plan 2000 is a living document, designed to respond to new information and changing community conditions. The annual report is helped by the quality and quantity of responses that the Board receives from the registered neighborhood organizations and from city agencies. Neighborhood issues are specifically included throughout the annual report and within the Board recommendations to the Mayor and City Council. The latest report is available from the city website (<http://www.denvergov.org/CompPlan/>) and at Denver Public Library.

To ensure broad participation, the Denver Planning Board, in conjunction with the Inter-Neighborhood Cooperative and Capitol Hill United Neighborhoods, invites all neighbors to attend a workshop regarding implementation of Denver's Comprehensive Plan. This is the citizens' opportunity to reflect on positive strides that the city has made, but also to critique service delivery and identify critical issues facing the community in coming years. The workshop is scheduled for Saturday, October 25, 2003 from 9:00 a.m. to noon at the Ramada Limited Capitol Hill, 1150 E. Colfax Avenue in Denver. Those planning to attend should notify Wayland Walker at 720-865-2921 no later than October 17.

Whether attending the workshop or not, every neighborhood should complete and return the survey on page 11 so that Planning staff can know what issues are of concern in each neighborhood. Survey responses are due by October 17th, one week in advance of the workshop. Responses to the survey may be sent by mail, e-mail or fax to: Katherine Cornwell, Senior City Planner, Community Planning and Development, 201 W. Colfax Avenue, Department 209, Denver Co. 80202, katherine.cornwell@ci.denver.co.us, 720-865-3056 (fax).

The Denver Planning Board appreciates the assistance of neighborhoods in keeping the Comprehensive Plan current and responsive to the needs of the Denver citizens.

[See the Neighborhood Survey on page 11]

Leaf Recycling Time Is Almost Here

Important Reminders

- ♦ Sundays only, November 9th, November 16th and November 23rd from 10 a.m. to 4 p.m.
- ♦ Make sure your leaves do not contain branches or other wastes, these can damage the composting equipment.
- ♦ Bring your leaves in containers or on tarps to speed unloading, and to conserve trash bags.
- ♦ Do NOT drop leaves at these sites except during the times and dates specified. Leaves left at other times will not be composted, they create a nuisance for the schools and parks that allow us to use their facilities, and it is illegal.

Option 2 - Weekdays from October 13th to December 5th: During the week, residents can drop off bagged leaves only at the Denver Solid Waste Transfer Station (Quebec St. & Cherry Creek Drive South). This site will be open only on weekdays except holidays, from 7 a.m. to 4:30 p.m., between October 13th and December 5th. This site is not open on Sundays.

For more information or in case of bad weather, call (720) 865-6810 to check for cancellations or visit www.DenverGov.org/DenverRecycles.
