The INC Executive Committee unanimously approved a motion to propose an amendment to the Bylaws to create a standing Website/Communication Committee. It is proposed that Article IX, subparagraph C of the Bylaws be amended to read “Standing Committees shall be: Budget, Education, Membership, Newsletter, Parks and Recreation, Public Safety, Transportation, Website/Communications, and Zoning.” And the Zoning and Planning Committee is asking for the Delegation’s approval of a motion. The Committee unanimously adopted the Statement of Principles documented on page 7. If adopted, this statement will be presented to candidates for City offices in the May 3rd election. Be prepared to discuss and vote on the proposed amendment and motion at the meeting.

The Bylaws also specify that the Annual Meeting includes the election of officers by the delegates. The officer positions include the Chairman, Vice-chairman, Secretary, Treasurer, and five Delegates-at-large. Only a delegate from a member RNO may serve as an officer. The following are the duties of the officers and the names of persons expressing a desire to be nominated for the respective position:

The Chairman is responsible for seeing that the purposes of the association are carried out, presides at all meetings of the Delegation and the Executive Committee (EC), proposes the agenda for all meetings, appoints the Audit Committee, appoints the chair of all committees with the approval of the EC, and serves as an ex-officio member of all committees. As of this writing, there is one candidate for Chair—Steve Nissen.

The Vice-chairman performs the duties of the Chairman in his/her stead and those duties assigned by the Delegation. There is one candidate for this position—Larry Ambrose.

The Secretary records the proceedings of all meetings and keeps and preserves the records of the organization. As of now, there is no candidate for this position.

The Treasurer is the custodian of all funds, keeps and preserves accurate and complete records, disburses funds at the direction of the Delegation, and presents a quarterly financial report to the Delegation. As of now, there is no candidate for this position.

The Delegates-at-large perform such duties as assigned by the Delegation. As of now, there are five candidates for the five positions. They are William Cornell, Randle Loeb, Jane Lorimer, George Mayl, and Brad Zieg.

All nominations for officer positions, including those not yet nominated and the current slate, shall be made from the floor at the meeting.

NOTICE

If your RNO is not listed here, your delegates to INC will not be able to run for office nor vote for those who do.

The membership chair will be at the meeting at 8 a.m. to process late renewals.
The gathering was hosted by the South City Park Civic Association and the North City Park Neighborhood Organization. Bonita Lahey of South City Park Civic Association and Dave Goens of North City Park Neighborhood Association greeted the delegates and provided interesting historic information about the park and the area as well as thanking the City for working with surrounding neighborhoods.

This district’s councilwoman, Carla Madison, spoke about City Park’s improved circulation plan and about the nearby dog park, recycle center plans, the new Food Truck Task Force, and the public hearing on the medical marijuana ordinance scheduled on February 14th. Madison and a number of other candidates for office in the May elections were present including Rich Gonzales, Mary Beth Susman, Chris Romer, and a representative of Jacob Werther.

The Minutes of the January 8th INC Delegates’ meeting were approved by acclamation.

Jane Lorimer presented her proposal that INC should distribute a directory of RNO presidents and delegates to the member RNOs (see the January issue of Denver Neighborhood Connection). After discussion, it was moved by Steve Lawrence and seconded by Michael Henry to produce such a directory; the motion passed with all in favor. Members of the INC RNOs will be queried for permission to publish their record.

Will Cornell reported that the INC Executive Board proposes spending $3,000 to establish a user-friendly website for INC; a special website and communication committee will work on this. After discussion, he moved for a vote, seconded by Michael Henry; it passed with all in favor.

Nissen advised the delegates that a number of political forums are scheduled and encouraged all RNOs to help sponsor the forum nearest their neighborhoods.

Tony Young, liaison for the Mayor, announced that no 2011 Neighborhood Conference has been planned by the current administration.

Mayor Bill Vidal thanked all volunteers for their input on what is important to the City. He said that during his six months as mayor he will do all he can to promote the City as a vibrant community, attractive to businesses and to all residents. He will champion Denver’s Road Home and improved employment opportunities including faster City permit operations. The DIA South Terminal project will provide many jobs. He has a Structural Financial Task Force (SFTF) at work on long-range City budget considerations. He wants greater openness and care taken in handling the very small percent of complaints (but very publicly presented) on Department of Safety issues, with assurance that such incidents will not happen again.

Executive Committee Recap
By Larry Ambrose

The Executive Committee was called to order at 7:00 p.m. on February 10th at 1201 Williams Street in the 19th floor loft. Present were Chair Steve Nissen; Vice-chair Brad Zeig; Delegates-at-large Larry Ambrose, William Cornell, Cathy Donohue, and George Mayl; Committee Chairs Ken Beaudrie, Mike Henry, and Anthony Thomas; and guest, Michael Smilanic.

A motion was made by Cathy to approval the minutes of the January 10th meeting; Brad seconded. The minutes were approved by acclamation.

Due to the last minute rescheduling of the EC meeting, the Treasurer could not attend hence the lack of a Treasurer’s Report in this recap. The report appears on page 9.

Steve asked which Executive Committee members intended to run for a committee position in the March INC elections. Steve will run again for Chair while Brad and incumbents Cathy, George, and William will run as Delegates-at-large. Larry will run for Vice-chair.

A group composed of Brad, Ken, Larry, Michael, and William had been studying website options. William presented a report and recommendations for a content management system, social media strategy, site map, and organization through which the site should be developed. It was the consensus that Wordpress (vs. Dupral) would be the easiest program to use and through which to train others to update an INC website. Michael explained the dynamics of the Wordpress content management system. William presented a site map and format for the website and recommended the creation of a committee that would help to design, develop, and maintain the site.

Brad moved to recommend to the Delegation an amendment to the Bylaws to establish a standing “Website/Communication Committee” in Article IX.C.; George seconded. It passed unanimously. A budget of up to $3,000 was estimated to bring the site to fruition. Using the Wordpress format will make it possible over the years to upgrade rather than to have to redesign the site completely. Brad made a motion to allocate $3,000 for the creation of an INC website; Larry seconded. The motion passed by acclamation.

Larry and William had been working on finding an appropriate LCD projector in order to project computer-generated images at meetings. Larry moved to authorize up to $700 to purchase an LCD projector, warranty, and screen. Brad seconded. The motion passed by acclamation.

There was a discussion of Jane Lorimer’s request to make available information regarding INC RNO members. Jane will make a motion at the February meeting of the Delegation to have the Membership Chair release such information.

The Dollar Dictionary Committee reported that $3,300 was raised through the silent auction at the Annual INC Presidents Dinner. There is approximately $11,000 in the account.

William reported there will be an Education Committee meeting February 23rd at 4 p.m. at the Blair Caldwell Library

Ken reported on Membership. There are, including carryovers, 86 RNO members, 15 of which are patrons and 31 Associates, 11 of which are patrons. For the new year, so far there are 50 RNO members, 8 of which are patrons and 17 Associates, 7 of which are patrons.

Larry reported that the Parks and Recreation Committee has been working to distribute the Platform for Denver Parks and has sent all mayoral candidates the Platform along with a list of questions. The Committee will be assembling the responses and disseminating the results. The Committee will meet on their regular third Tuesday of the month schedule on February 15th, 6:00 p.m., at the Heritage Club, 2020 South Monroe Street.

Anthony, Co-chair of the Public Safety Committee, reported on issues surrounding the redesign of I-70.

Brad announced that the Transportation Committee would meet on February 26th. He also made a point that the new zoning code makes new development a nightmare for anyone trying to do projects in the City.

Under Old Business, it was announced that information on candidate forums will be published in the INC newsletter.

Under new business, Steve reported that an invoice from Visit Denver for INC’s portion of the cost of the Annual Presidents Dinner would be approximately $1,700.
Therefore, for the first time, a net revenue was gained this year from the Dinner. Larry announced that he has a CD with more than 400 photos taken at the Dinner. He will first give it to Jane Lorimer who will then deliver it to Steve.

The meeting was adjourned at 9:15 p.m.

The INC Parks and Recreation Committee (PARC) met February 15th, 6 p.m., at the Heritage Club. Present were co-chairs Larry Ambrose and Katie Fisher as well as Ronnie Crawford, Cathy Donohue, Ray Ehrenstein, Dave Felice, Steve Fisher, Diana Helper, Marlene Johnson, Cindy Johnstone, Jay Rust, Kathleen Rust, James Sample, Michael Smilanic, and DPR Community Liaison Angela Casias.

Cindy said there are two spaces remaining in the allowed group of ten Washington Park FANS (friends and neighbors) to tour the Recycled Waste facility on February 23rd. Jay and Kathleen Rust expressed an interest in joining the tour.

Jay reported on the distribution of INC Parks Platforms to mayoral candidates. One reply has come in and the others are working on replies to submit. The group discussed distribution to City Council candidates. A few members will develop a format for this; the Committee will meet March 8th to finalize it. It will be presented at the March 12th INC meeting of the Delegation. Dave Felice went through a list of media organizations to be sent the Platform; members agreed on assignments to do so.

Larry opened discussion of the request the Committee has received from a number of people to develop a “Platform for Recreation” because this large consideration has not been detailed in the Park Platform. Cindy stated that she believes recreation is such a complex topic, including recreation centers, golf courses, mountain parks, playing fields, and more, that it needs to be tackled by a separate committee. After discussion, the Committee agreed that it will continue to focus on Parks and the recreation that is inherently related to our public parks (including dog parks), but that we will recommend to INC that a separate committee be formed to develop a “Recreation Platform” and address recreation issues. It was agreed that the City would do well to make two departments, a Parks Department and a Recreation Department, but that it is not likely to happen given the current political and economic situation. Angela stated that DPR evaluates all parks and recreation use and there will be opportunities for the public to discuss these topics.

The Dog Park Master Plan meeting is March 10th, the same night at PR Advisory Board at which INC is to present its Park Platform. The Plan has not yet been posted online. Angela will check on this situation.

Ronnie talked about Overland Pond Park near West Florida Avenue and the South Platte River. This was presented at Parks and Recreation Advisory Board meeting last week; the Committee will ask that it be presented to INC delegates this spring. Volunteers from adjoining RNOs are welcome to help with this small, natural park. A “Fishing Is Fun” grant is being sought, money from the Shattuck remediation fund is available, and some RISO funds will tie into the park area.

No information is yet available on the “Big Air” ski/snowboard event, awaiting information from the Denver Office of Cultural Affairs (DOCA). Assessment of the condition of the park will be made in April. DOCA plans to have this event again but many factors must be considered, with a cost-benefit analysis available to the public. The resulting condition of the park is of prime importance. Complaints included lack of big names, price of tickets, some paid space was no better than some free space, only ticket holders could use the bathrooms, too many fences, routing around a city block to get to the other side of the park, and the fact that this event did nothing to “activate” Civic Center park beyond the event itself. As Jay pointed out, Denver Parks and Recreation (DPR) did its best to save park grass by having patrons ticketed who may have technically been outside the park. If held again, we suggest a sports venue.

Cindy asked if DPR plans more skate-parks in existing parks; there are some areas to be set for skaters. A new bike obstacle course will be at Barnum Park as suggested by Winter Park Ski Resort to encourage mountain biking. Cindy noted gender bias in recreation plans for older youths.

Other topics discussed included:
- Ask what Admission-Based Events have been requested (By who and where).
- Dead geese at Sloan’s Lake and at Washington Park (one is being examined by Wildlife to determine the cause of death).
- Frances Melrose Rose Garden at Sloan's Lake Park being redone by DPR and Melrose Foundation without any input or consultation with neighbors or consideration of English rose garden plans.
- Questionable as to DPR use of $20,000 per year maintenance funds from Foundation.
- Offer of an 80-acre park site by a person protesting two -year review of medical marijuana growing sites no longer conforming with new zoning code if review were extended to four years (two years was voted in).
- Were any council members involved in this?
- Vending guidelines for 2012 are on hold until after the Mayoral election.
· The new newsletter service will improve communication and provide more “news.”
· The Washington Park Master Plan presentation will be on February 24th.
· There is some confusion regarding how liquor will be served at Stapleton Central Park's Pavilion and laws where catering services are concerned for events if liquor is to be served.
· Sponsors ($2,500) are needed for Free Movies in Parks.
· Recently installed motion activated cameras are providing good video of wildlife in Denver Mountain Parks.

The meeting adjourned at 8:20 p.m. There will be a special meeting of the INC PARC on March 8th to review responses to the Park Platform from the mayoral candidates. The regular meeting is scheduled for March 15th.

Zoning and Planning
By Diana Helper

INC’s Zoning and Planning (ZAP) committee met February 26th.

Katherine Cornwell and Tina Axelrad gave an update on the Sustainable Food Policy Council. The Mayor appointed an advisory group that meets monthly and will study proposed changes in the present process for keeping chickens, ducks, and goats. The group will make recommendations to the Mayor and City Council for a “Food-Producing Animals” ordinance, sponsored by Councilman Chris Nevitt. The Department of Environmental Health, the City Zoning Code, and the Animal Code are involved. The proposal goes to the Planning Board March 16th with a public hearing likely at Council May 2nd.

ZAPers had many questions—inspections, foxes/ coyotes, impoundment, fees, and lack of notification to neighbors—and were assured no surge of problems is expected. To engage a speaker for your own group and for more information, please visit www.sustainablefooddenver.org.

Paula Van Dusen, on behalf of Denver Urban Homesteading, described that group’s petition on a similar topic. If Council should not vote for the above Sustainable Food proposal, Homesteading’s proposal can be put on the next citywide ballot, provided it has 5,000 accepted signatures. She circulated a petition for ZAPers to sign if they wished.

City Councilwoman Paula Sandoval spoke about a proposed amendment to the City Landmark Protection Ordinance. “Demolition by Neglect and Affirmative Maintenance” will be addressed, in reference to City landmark-designated structures. She said the Manager of Community Planning and Development (CPD) would have the power to define rules and regulations. An international property maintenance code may be written. She said speakers would come to your group to talk about this proposed amendment. Please contact Paula.Sandoval@denvergov.org.

CPD Manager Peter Park spoke about that department’s work in the consolidating and linking of the many facets of planning and development to serve us better. These facets include coordinating building, zoning, wastewater, et cetera. They also include working toward more on-line permitting and working with the Public Works and the Parks and Recreation Department to clarify and consolidate many land and streetscape concerns (Right of Way, Parkways, et cetera).

Caryn Wenzara of CPD provided an informative handout on Planning Services’ 2011 Work Program. It provided a list of goals, of long-range city and small area plans being studied, of the implementation of area based projects, of regulations, of infrastructure and funding, of partnerships, of procedures, and of communications. Jeremy Wells of CPD Landmark Preservation talked briefly about the 5-year Historic Resource Survey, now planning its methodology, that will lead to getting funds for a pilot project, then the full city.

Tina Axelrad of CPD spoke about a text amendment to the new Zoning Code to address set-backs, design standards, the reorganization of some text for clarity, the addition of graphics and intent statements, interpretation, and making clean-up corrections. It likely will be Amendment 6 and is set to go to the Planning Board on March 16th. Zoning Administrator Michael O’Flaherty added that this amendment is the result of the first nine months’ experience using the Zoning Code. There also was some discussion of “Conservation Overlays” that are available in the Zoning Code. A few are presently under preliminary discussion with neighborhoods.

Assistant City Attorney Kerry Buckey talked for a moment about the recent Medical Marijuana Ordinance passed by Council and how it assures that Registered Neighborhood Organizations (RNOs) will be notified.

George Washington HOA – Denver Green School will create an urban garden in the spring to grow healthy food for their lunch program. George Washington High School is revamping the north entrance to be safer and to provide access for students. It is funded through donations and fundraising; no tax dollars were used. Check with the school for details. The cost was $180,000 and driven by parents of students.

North City Park – There is a grass-roots effort on the part of parents and concerned citizens to recall Nate Easley as representative of Northeast Denver on the D.P.S. Board.

Stapleton United Neighbors – The Central Park Recreation Center has been packed with people since it opened this past month. It is a regional recreation center with gymnasium, pool, weight room, and cardio room. Stapleton hosted a transportation forum discussing the upcoming Central Park interchange to be opened in late 2011.

University Park Community Council (UP) – UP is co-hosting the South-Central Political Forum on March 22nd. UP is working hard to improve safe crossings at South Colorado Boulevard, South University Boulevard, and Buchtel Boulevard Parkway.

ZAP Principles
By ZAP Committee
The Inter-Neighborhood Cooperation Zoning and Planning Committee unanimously adopted the following Statement of Principles to present to the INC Delegation at its March 12 meeting. If adopted, this will be presented to candidates for city offices in the May 3 election. Delegates should be prepared to vote on March 12.

STATEMENT OF PRINCIPLES OF INTER-NEIGHBORHOOD COOPERATION REGARDING ZONING AND PLANNING AND CIVIC ENGAGEMENT ISSUES – 2011
Inter-Neighborhood Cooperation, a volunteer network of 85 Denver registered neighborhood organizations, has worked since the late 1970s to ensure that:

a. Citizens of Denver should be fully informed of proposals, policies, and actions of the Denver city govern-

A draft of ZAP’s Statement of Principles for Candidates was read aloud by Michael Henry. There was discussion of this document that is meant to provide information to candidates for Mayor and Council before (and after) the May election. Charlotte Winzenburg made the only amendment to add “RNO” before the word “neighborhoods;” the group voted unanimously to have the document presented for vote to the full INC Delegation at its March 12th meeting. See the full text at page 7.

The meeting adjourned at 12 noon. Next ZAP meeting is March 26th at 9:30 a.m.

Dollar Dictionary Drive

“A dictionary and a thesaurus of their own for every third-grade student attending Denver Public Schools,” that is our goal. It sounds very simple and in many ways, it really is simple and straightforward. In a city of 600,000, every year there are 6,500 third-graders attending 90 plus schools from over 200 neighborhoods. Since 1996, neighborhood and community support has said yes; this is important for all of us.

Blink a few times and those 8-year-olds are in middle school, then high school, and then college. The first third-grade recipients of this gift are now college graduates. We offer congratulations and thank you to all who have donated to this cause!

This gift of these books of learning through words from our community can make a difference with each third-grader and their families. The expanded dictionary includes the U.S. Constitution, biographies of Presidents, state demographics, world maps, a multiplication table, a periodic table, solar system pictures, planet information, plus much more. All 450 pages are an easy reference for young and old. The thesaurus (nicknamed the dinosaur book) is easily understood and it helps the reader navigate the nuances of the English language.

We had a great kick-off at the INC annual dinner with the silent auction benefiting the Dictionary Drive. Thank you to all who participated and contributed. INC’s costs for this program to provide two books of their own for each third-grader are just over $3.00 per student.

Your financial support is requested to enable us to give the third-graders their own dictionary and thesaurus in 250-plus classrooms in 90-plus schools and to label 13,000 books by school and neighborhood.

Denver and our students are our town and our future. Readers are Leaders!
Thank You!

b. All City departments and agencies should solicit and consider opinions and ideas from citizens and neighborhood organizations. In more specific terms, INC believes that:

1. Denver’s neighborhood registration ordinance, adopted in 1979, must be implemented consistently and effectively by all City departments.

2. The Mayor should appoint representatives of registered neighborhood organizations to all city boards, commissions, and task forces that consider issues of concern to neighborhoods or to citizens at large, including any task forces regarding bond issues.

3. All City boards, commissions, or task forces that consider issues of concern to neighborhoods or to citizens at large should have meetings that are open to the public; shall make their agendas, meeting times, and meeting places available to the public in advance of the meetings; and shall provide time at the meetings for public comment.

4. The Mayor, his or her department heads, and City Council members should meet with neighborhood organizations periodically every year to discuss neighborhood issues.

5. The Budget and Management Office, the Mayor, department heads, and City Council should consider in every budget cycle the impact upon the quality of life in neighborhoods of each budget proposal and should solicit and consider comments from the public and neighborhood organizations.

6. The City should implement the new zoning code by continuing to require that new developments or construction in stable neighborhoods be compatible with the adjacent neighborhood and that all of the required notifications be timely given.

7. The Community Planning and Development Department should be adequately funded to be able to complete or update neighborhood plans or small area plans where needed.

8. Neighborhood Inspection Services, the Department of Excise and Licenses, and the Department of Environmental Health should be funded and managed so that City ordinances and licensing requirements are properly enforced in neighborhoods.

9. The Landmark Preservation Commission and the city-wide historic survey should be adequately staffed and funded to enable effective understanding and preservation of Denver’s historic resources.

10. The Public Works Department should be adequately funded and managed to make all forms of transportation safe for pedestrians, bicyclists, bus-riders, and drivers and should encourage multi-modal transportation and attractive streetscapes.

11. The Clerk and Recorder and City Council should involve citizens and neighborhood representatives in discussions about redistricting and election procedures.

12. All elected officials and department heads should improve their efforts to ensure that all City departments and agencies work together, not separately or adversely, to make, implement, and enforce policies that affect neighborhoods.

13. City services should be equitably provided in all parts of Denver.

Recycling CFL Bulbs – What You Need to Know

Congratulations! You are now using compact fluorescent light bulbs (CFLs) in your home. You are saving energy and saving money on your utility bills. Now what do you do if a CFL burns out or breaks?

What to do with burned out CFLs?

Unlike standard incandescent bulbs, CFL bulbs do contain trace amounts of mercury. It is not a lot of mercury, about one-hundredth the amount of an old-style mercury thermometer; however, it is still enough to pose a danger to your health and the environment. The good news is that CFLs are 100 percent recyclable and safe when disposed of properly, and there are many free CFL recycling locations available to you. Xcel Energy and Ace Hardware stores have collaborated to recycle CFL bulbs. You may drop-off your CFL bulbs for free recycling at any of the over one hundred Ace Hardware stores in Colorado. Also, Home Depot and Lowes stores offer free recycling of CFL bulbs as part of their national programs. Recycling CFLs is also important because other materials in the bulbs are reused; the glass and metal that make up CFL bulbs can be recycled.

What to do if a CFL breaks?

According to the EPA, if a CFL bulb or any fluorescent bulb breaks in your home, some of the mercury is released as mercury vapor. The broken bulb can continue to release mercury vapor until it is cleaned up and removed from the residence. To minimize exposure to mercury vapor, EPA recommends that residents follow the cleanup and disposal steps described below.

1. Before cleanup:
   - Have people and pets leave the room.
   - Air-out the room for 5 to 10 minutes by opening a window or door to the outdoor environment.
   - Shut off any central forced air heating/air-conditioning system.
   - Collect materials needed to clean up the broken bulb such as wet paper towels and a sealable bag or container.

2. During cleanup:
   - Be thorough in collecting broken glass and visible powder.
   - Place the cleanup materials in a sealable container.

3. After cleanup
   - Promptly place all bulb debris and cleanup materials outdoors in a trash container or protected area until materials can be disposed of properly. Avoid leaving any bulb fragments or cleanup materials indoors.
   - If practical, continue to air out the room where the bulb was broken and leave any heating/air conditioning system shut off for several hours.

Please note: For much more detailed cleanup instructions for various services, visit the EPA’s website at epa.gov/cfl/cflcleanup.html

What about recycling other types of fluorescent bulbs?

The long, “tube like” fluorescent bulbs most often used in commercial lighting fixtures are not accepted for recycling at most hardware stores like CFL bulbs. However, Denver residents can dispose of their fluorescent tubes as part of the Denver’s Household Hazardous Waste collection program. For more information on this program, please visit online at DenverGov.org/DenverRecycles.

Six Easy Ways to Be Better Denver Recycler!

In 2010, Denver residents recycled a record 31,300 tons of recyclable materials through the Denver Recycles program. Also, more households participated in the program than ever before with the program surpassing 100,000 recyclers in 2010. Congratulations, Denver!

Despite the continued growth of participation and awareness, there remains room for improvement; together we can recycle even more materials in 2011. Below are a few recycling tips on how you can become an even better recycler:

1. Review the current list of accepted materials regularly
   - To see if there are any new items added you have overlooked that could be recycled instead of thrown in the trash. A list of recyclable items can be found online at DenverGov.org/DenverRecycles or you can call 3-1-1 to have a “Guide to Easy Recycling” booklet mailed to you. Did you know that in 2010 Denver Recycles added #5 plastic cups and tubs to the list of acceptable items?

2. Check your trash.
   - Before emptying a wastebasket from a bedroom or office, check to see if there are any recyclable items you can pull out.

3. Make recycling a habit in every room of the house.
   - Recycling is not just for the kitchen or living room; it is for every room in the house. Challenge yourself to recycle products from the bathroom, laundry room, and garage as well.

4. Keep non-acceptable items out of your recycling cart.
   - Items not accepted in the program can contaminate other recyclables that are collected; that results in increased recycling costs and could result in loads being rejected for recycling.

5. Flatten and break down all boxes before putting them in your purple cart; this will leave more room for other recyclable materials. Remember that all boxes should be cut or folded down to no larger than 2 feet by 2 feet when placed in the recycling carts. Cardboard left outside your recycling cart will not be recycled.

6. Never place plastic bags into your purple cart. The equipment that sorts the recyclables is incredibly sophisticated and plastic bags are the one item that can become tangled around this equipment possibly causing damage and operating downtime.
