

00:33:17 Keith Meyer - Sloan's Lake: Thanks everyone for coming to our first INC ZAP meeting of the year. We are actively looking for anyone who may have information about what RNO's have zoning and planning committees. We'd like to make sure we are getting ZAP information to these committees.

If you're able to help us get this list together please let us know. You can email me at president@denverinc.org ~ Thanks so much!!!

00:35:25 Joel Noble - Curtis Park: And neighborhood inspection services

00:38:38 Bruce Baskette (HH/WP): Anyone know the last time INC took an actual position on any city notifications?

00:40:14 Cindy Sestrich - Neighbors for Greater Capitol Hill: Thank you Michael! You are the reason the city listens to INC.

00:41:13 Joel Noble - Curtis Park: INC sent the City a comprehensive set of proposed updates to the RNO ordinance in 2020. Included changes to how notices should work, how RNOs should demonstrate inclusiveness etc. As far as I know the City never acknowledged it at all

00:53:33 Cindy Sestrich - Neighbors for Greater Capitol Hill: What do the different colors on the NPI map mean?

00:53:47 Amber Kraska- Harkness Heights: Looks like the different phases

01:03:25 Cindy Sestrich - Neighbors for Greater Capitol Hill: Thanks

01:04:44 Cindy Sestrich - Neighbors for Greater Capitol Hill: When you add new information influencing development in the future area plans, how are you going to handle the existing completed plans to incorporate new information?

01:06:13 Michael Henry: For Courtland - What outreach, if any, have you made to citizens and RNOs and INC about the effectiveness of the NPI? I think it is fair to say that the INC ZAP Committee (especially Joel Noble) strongly recommended that all neighborhoods should have up-to-date neighborhood plans. Joel then became chair of the Denver Planning Board and kept a sharp eye on the NPI process.

01:15:41 Keith Meyer - Sloan's Lake: Heidi - What recommendations would you give for participants just joining an NPI process? How do you break through this initial confusion for the group and get to the point of effectiveness that your group achieved?

01:34:02 Cindy Sestrich - Neighbors for Greater Capitol Hill: I agree that educational time is invaluable and speed isn't the goal.

01:42:34 Cindy Sestrich - Neighbors for Greater Capitol Hill: Thursday evenings are good= 1st week at 6:30.

01:43:01 Robert Schmid: Amber, sorry gotta go to an 8:00P. Great start. Need to meet once a month. There's plenty to cover.

01:44:38 heidi newhart, west colfax association of neighbors (WeCAN): I love the field trip idea! I am a visual person and I like to learn in place.

01:45:39 heidi newhart, west colfax association of neighbors (WeCAN): Or two or three topics that are inter related so there is synergy...

01:45:51 Lou Raders - CCNNA: Maybe coordinating with the Equity in Rezoning Task Force for an update

01:46:02 Keith Meyer - Sloan's Lake: I'm interested in a book club

01:46:26 Keith Meyer - Sloan's Lake: or at least developing a book list
